For the nine months of FY 1971 we are running 3% more than for the same period in Fiscal Year 1970. Forty-five times during the month there were more than 1,500 items available for a shift to work on and eight times there were 800 or more items left for the next shift. By using our supervisors and skilled analysts as clerks and press operators, we were able to move the cables out.

that the telephone branch monitor the four existing lines (three black and one red) and give us the results. The three black lines average 173 calls per day and are in use for a total of five hours and 48 minutes per day. The red line averaged 138 calls per day for a total of three hours per day. [redacted] of the telephone branch stated that the figures, particularly the red line, were the highest ever recorded by the Agency. Approximately 70% of these calls were queries pertaining to added disseminations, technical problems and requests for cables which had to be obtained from other agencies. The remaining 30% of the calls were liaison with other agencies.
